Manager's Review

Equity markets were under pressure in the first half of the financial year, undermined by predominantly weak news on the macro-economic front. The three largest global economies, the US, China and Japan, all appeared to slow down over the course of the Summer, and while Europe as a whole showed some signs of improvement, the overall level of global growth in 2015 looks set to undershoot that recorded in 2014.

Performance

After the previous year, when smaller company shares tended to lag larger stocks, in the period under review there was better relative performance at the lower market cap end of the spectrum in the UK, European and Japanese markets. However, with most markets moving lower, the Net Asset Value ("NAV") total return for the six months on a diluted basis was -1.5%, while the share price was down by 1.5% or 0.8% in total return terms. The Company's Benchmark is calculated from the returns of the MSCI World ex UK Small Cap Index and Numis UK Smaller Companies (excluding investment companies) Index in a 70%/30% proportion, broadly reflecting the geographic skew of the portfolio between international and domestic stocks. This showed a -4.0% total return in sterling terms for the six months.

A total of 1.3m new shares (2.5% of the initial share capital) were issued by

--- Benchmark (total return)

Geographical distribution of the investment portfolio at 31 October 2015 North America 40.9% (40.2%)

the Company in the six months at a small premium to the prevailing NAV per share. The shares ended the period at a 1.7% premium to the diluted NAV (1.0% at the end of April 2015).

Dividends

Although the markets have been lacklustre and there have been some dividend cuts from a number of well-known large cap stocks, many companies held in the portfolio are still managing to deliver earnings growth, providing scope for them to increase their dividends. Revenue returns per share rose by 7.4% and reflecting this, plus a favourable outlook for income in the remainder of the year. the Board has decided to pay a 2.90p dividend, a rise of 9.4% on last year's interim distribution. This will be paid to shareholders on 29 January 2016.

Economic and market background

At the start of the period, our expectation was that the global economy would benefit from the impact of lower oil and other commodity prices on consumer spending power. While retail sales have risen in many countries, in practice the impact of this across the broader economic scene has been more muted than anticipated, particularly in relation to the US and Asia.

Throughout the period, there was speculation around the potential timing of the long-awaited rise in US rates, with the unemployment rate in the US dropping to a multi-year low. This served to put upward pressure on the US dollar, while at the same time creating protracted weakness in a number of emerging market currencies. Those countries with fiscal deficits and a dependence on commodities within their trade, such as Brazil, were in the eve of the storm. Mounting evidence of a slowdown in China led the government in August to engineer a depreciation of their own currency, leading to further market volatility. Perhaps unsurprisingly, sentiment towards emerging markets shares remained depressed.

While growth remains far from stellar in Europe, the economies of previously hard-hit countries like Ireland, Spain and more recently Italy, are now back on a better trajectory. The Continent's largest economy Germany is also delivering respectable growth numbers mainly driven by the consumer side, though industrial production data has slowed of late. The ongoing refugee crisis in Europe is creating major logistical and political issues in a number of countries at a local level, but the overall economic impact on the Continent as a whole at this stage has been relatively modest.

Elsewhere, Japan's economy contracted in the second quarter of 2015, with the US and wider Asian slowdowns hampering export business. Despite this set-back Japanese companies on the whole have been producing better than expected profits, helped by the more competitive level of the Yen.

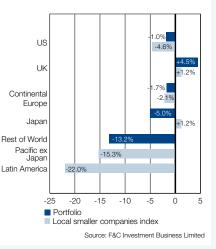

On the domestic front, the UK economy has continued to grow faster than the other major developed countries' economies. With inflation negligible and unemployment down to 5.5%, the rising number of people in employment now have a higher level of real disposable income and consumer spending has been strong. Less positively, the manufacturing side of the economy came under pressure during the period as sterling's strength versus the euro hit exports to the Continent.

Portfolio performance

We look at the performance of the fund across five sub-portfolios. In four of the five; the US, UK, Europe and Rest of World, we did better than the local small cap indices as shown in the following table.

Geographical performance (total return sterling adjusted)

for the half-year ended 31 October 2015

The best performance came from the UK portfolio. Helped by the general economic environment, a number of our consumer based stocks led the way. JD Sports Fashion's core sports business is still taking market share in the UK, and the company is now moving to open stores in Continental Europe. Vertu Motors once again benefited from the strong UK car market and the management team's skill in enhancing returns from acquired dealerships. Topps Tiles shares rose as sales benefited from more spending on home improvements.

After more than doubling in the second half of the previous financial year, the share price of tonics and mixers supplier Fevertree Drinks surged again. The company upgraded profits guidance with first half sales up by 62%. Shares in Rank, rose by almost 50%. A new management team has moved to augment the online side of the bingo and casino business, taking advantage of the company's strong cash-flow characteristics. Elsewhere, online logistics services company Clipper Logistics was in favour, as it won a number of new contracts, most notably to serve John Lewis's "Click and Collect" service.

The other positive feature of the period for our UK portfolio was a high level of takeover activity following on from a busy period in the previous year. Anite, Innovation Group and Phoenix IT in the software and services sector, together with business process outsourcer Xchanging, media services company Chime Communications and electronics company HellermannTyton, all fell prey to bids.

Of the weaker performers in the UK, companies exposed to the oil price again stood out, with Hunting, James Fisher and Pressure Technologies all forced to downgrade guidance. Faroe Petroleum dropped after announcing disappointing exploration results in the North Sea. Other companies to flag poor results included collectables business Stanley Gibbons, equipment supplier Speedy Hire and specialist care business Cambian.

The US portfolio performed well relative to the local market. The global insurance sector has seen a bout of consolidation in response to weaker insurance rates, and one of our largest holdings HCC Insurance received an attractive offer from a larger Japanese based peer. Our other sector holdings, notably ProAssurance, also posted strong share price performance. In addition within financials, bank shares performed well as the market looked ahead to the potential for rising interest rates to lift margins. We increased our weighting to regional banks by buying two new holdings, and Sterling Bancorp performed particularly well as its earnings benefited from a combination of solid loan growth and cost-cutting.

A number of services businesses did well over the period, processing servicing business Total System Services was a positive contributor as it added Bank of America as a new customer, while a new holding in CDW Corp paid off as the company's IT distribution business serving the US mid-market performed better than expected.

Long standing holding Atlantic Tele-Network rose as the market applauded good progress made by the company in deploying surplus capital. We decided to sell the holding in retailer Conn's after a run-up in the company's shares with results showing signs of improvement, a decision subsequently vindicated by weaker trading news later in the period.

Industrial classification of the investment portfolio

at 31 October 2015

Industrials 21.3% (21.5%) Financials 18.3% (17.7%) Collective investments 16.6% (18.7%) Consumer services 13.5% (12.8%) Health care 9.0% (8.5%) Consumer goods 8.0% (7.0%) Technology 8.0% (8.2%) Basic materials 2.2% (2.0%) Telecommunications 1.8% (1.7%)

Source: F&C Investment Business Limited The percentages in brackets are as at 30 April 2015

Oil & gas 1.3% (1.9%)

Relative performance in the US was also helped by an underweight stance towards energy stocks, with only one oil producer Carrizo Oil and Gas, being held in the period. Genesee & Wyoming the railroad operator did however, suffer from lower oil sector related activity, while Summit Materials shares fell on concern about the oil-dependent Texas economy. Payment processor WEX directly exposed to fuel prices was also hit, serving to illustrate how the impact of the collapse in oil prices resonates across more than just the oil producers or service stocks. Other stocks which performed poorly in the US were HMS Holdings, which lost a contract in New Jersey, Pernix Therapeutics, where a product launch was delayed, and America's Car-Mart, where credit performance deteriorated.

We were ahead of the small cap benchmark in Europe, with the largest positive contribution coming from Gerresheimer. This company sold a capital intensive glass tube manufacturing business and reinvested in a high quality US packaging business, moves which were well received by the market. Economic recovery in Ireland lifted the results of ferry operator Irish Continental Group, and the company acquired some container vessels at an attractive price.

Christian Hansen, the ingredients business, which we have held for a number of years, again delivered good results with margins better than expected. Structured financial products company Leonteg announced new partnerships which should deliver further good growth in the future, and the company is now looking to exploit its technological lead by way of licensing deals. Online betting company Betsson is operating in a consolidating market-place, and the company completed a well-received deal of its own in the period in Georgia. Other companies to produce pleasing results included sports equipment and clothing company Amer Sports and recycling/ sorting machine supplier Tomra.

A number of the weaker European performers were found in the financial sectors. EFG International in private banking, disappointed with its cost/income ratio and weak new business figures in its first half. Shares in Sparebank were hit by rising loss provisioning as the oil price started to impact across the Norwegian economy, while in asset management Italian based company Azimut suffered as the country's regulators moved to investigate performance fee structures across the industry. Shares in Bolsas Y Mercados, the Spanish stock market operator, pulled back as volumes fell at a time of regulatory change.

Some of the more cyclical industrial stocks held on the portfolio, such as semi-conductor equipment supplier ASM International, underperformed as peers signalled a slowdown. Automotive component suppliers SHW and Elringklinger were hit in the main by stock specific issues and we sold the holdings. Origin Enterprises, the agronomy and agricultural supplies business flagged a squeeze on its profits as a result of seasonal issues and pressure on farm incomes. We added to our holding as we feel positive in relation to the potential further geographic expansion opportunity for the company, notwithstanding the near term challenge to earnings.

We obtain exposure to Japanese and Rest of World small caps by holding a limited number of specialist small cap orientated funds. After an excellent performance in the previous year, our Japanese performance was worse than the MSCI Japan Small Cap Index. Aberdeen's Japanese small cap fund was a weak performer in the six months, with some of the fund's holdings suffering from their exposure to emerging markets, and weak stock selection in consumer sectors. We switched our holding in M&G's Japanese smaller companies fund for a position in the Eastspring Japanese smaller companies fund. Eastspring's fund managers had been managing M&G's fund but this arrangement ceased during the period, and we wished to retain exposure to the same core team who have done well in recent years.

On the Rest of World side, we are investing in funds that invest in smaller company stocks in Asian, Latin American, Middle Eastern and African markets. Over this period, these markets were generally on the back-foot. The Chinese stock market set the tone for wider Asia, with a collapse in early summer prompting some naive policy moves from the authorities. A large proportion of Chinese small cap shares were suspended for a number of days during the worst of the turmoil. While our underlying fund holdings collectively have an underweight exposure to China, other local markets were not immune, and with regional currencies falling versus sterling, the overall return was worse than in all other parts of the fund. Having said this, we benefited from discount narrowing on our holdings in the Scottish Oriental Smaller Companies and Utilico Emerging Markets trusts, and so in overall terms our Rest of World portfolio held up better than both the Asian and Latin American small cap indices.

Geographical weightings against benchmark

Asset allocation and gearing

The pie chart on page 3 shows the weighting of the portfolio by region and the table above highlights the positioning versus the overall Benchmark. We aim to adjust geographic weightings at the right time to benefit overall performance and over the first half of this year, asset allocation made a small positive contribution to relative performance.

As a consequence of the better performance of the UK portfolio and the acquisition of some new holdings, our domestic weighting rose to over 30% during the first half of the year. We are still finding some interesting companies to invest in on the UK market and participated in a number of IPOs in the period. We also added to the US weighting later in the period after identifying a number of new opportunities in this market. We retained an overweight position in Europe but new ideas were harder to find on the continent.

After very strong performance in the Japanese small cap market in 2014/15, we moved to trim our exposure here. Japanese small caps no longer look compellingly cheap compared to those in other markets and the technical boost to the market from pension fund buying of equities may largely have played out. We remained underweight to the Rest of the World markets as we monitored developments in China and the other key emerging markets. Our overall impression is that margins are under pressure for a lot of Asian based businesses, and valuations for the better quality franchises look reasonably full in the region. Latin America as a whole is a loser from commodity price weakness and we are not looking to have significant exposure to this region in the near term.

We invested the in-coming monies from share issues broadly as they were received, and gearing therefore ended the period little changed at 4.4% (4.8% at 30 April 2015). The Board's policy is to be geared at all times, barring extreme circumstances, to enhance shareholder returns over the long term.

Outlook

The near term outlook for markets is uncertain given the potential headwind from higher US interest rates, and we are conscious of this in terms of our sector allocation strategy. There are signs that industrial production is slowing around the world, but consumer spending remains generally encouraging.

As ever, our focus is more on the individual stock level, and we still see good potential growth from the investment portfolio in the future.

1. Significant accounting policies

For the period ended 31 October 2015 (and the year ending 30 April 2016), the Company is applying, for the first time, FRS 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland, which forms part of the revised Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (New UK GAAP) issued by the Financial Reporting Council (FRC) in 2012 and 2013.

These condensed financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis in accordance with the Disclosure and Transparency Rules of the Financial Conduct Authority, FRS 102, FRS 104 Interim Financial Reporting issued by the FRC in March 2015 and the revised Statement of Recommended Practice "Financial Statements of Investment Trust Companies and Venture Capital Trusts" (SORP) issued by the AIC in November 2014.

As a result of the first time adoption of New UK GAAP and the revised SORP, comparative amounts and presentation formats have been amended where required. The net return attributable to ordinary shareholders and total shareholders' funds remain unchanged from under old UK GAAP basis, as reported in the preceding annual and interim reports. The Statement of Cash Flows has been restated to reflect presentational changes required under FRS 102 and does not include any other material changes.

The accounting policies applied for the condensed set of financial statements are set out in the Company's annual report for the year ended 30 April 2015. However, the references to prior individual FRSs should now be taken to reference FRS 102.

Warning to shareholders – Beware of Share Fraud

Fraudsters use persuasive and high-pressure tactics to lure investors into scams. They may offer to sell shares that turn out to be worthless or non-existent, or to buy shares at an inflated price in return for an upfront payment.

If you receive unsolicited investment advice or requests:

- Check the Financial Services Register from www.fca.org.uk to see if the person or firm contacting you is authorised by the FCA
- Call the Financial Conduct Authority ('FCA') on 0800 111 6768 if the firm does not have contact details on the Register or you are told they are out of date
- Search the list of unauthorised firms to avoid at www.fca.org.uk/scams
- Consider that if you buy or sell shares from an unauthorised firm you will not have access to the Financial Ombudsman Service or Financial Services Compensation Scheme
- Think about getting independent financial and professional advice

If you are approached by fraudsters please tell the FCA by using the share fraud reporting form at www.fca.org.uk/scams where you can find out more about investment scams.
