Manager's Review

Share prices in most markets around the world advanced in the period under review, building on the strong gains from the previous year. The key Central Banks in the US, UK, Europe and Japan persisted with policies aimed at supporting growth, providing further liquidity which lent strong support to financial markets as a whole. Smaller company shares once again more than held their own compared to the broader equity indices as investors continued to be attracted to their superior growth dynamic.

Performance

The Company's NAV delivered a total return over the six months of 10.5% and the share price, excluding dividend income, rose by 9.4%. These gains were just behind the Benchmark total return of 10.8%. Over the last five years the NAV total return has been 172.8% compared to the Benchmark performance of 151.7%. It is pleasing to report that the Company won both the "Money Observer" and "What Investment" Best Global Investment Trust awards for 2013, reflecting positively on performance over recent years.

Share price and net asset value per share performance

*The Company's Benchmark is a blended index of the returns from the MSCI All Country World ex UK Small Cap Index (70%) and the Numis UK Smaller Companies (excluding investment companies) Index (30%). Prior to 1 May 2010 the Company's Benchmark was a blended index of the returns from the MSCI All Country World ex UK Small Cap Index (60%) and the Hoare Govett UK Smaller Companies (including investment companies) Index (40%). In April 2012 the Hoare Govett UK Smaller Companies Index changed its name to the Numis UK Smaller Companies Index. The method of calculation remained unchanged.

Geographical distribution of the investment portfolio

The percentages in brackets are as at 30 April 2013

The share price ended the period at a 0.8% premium to the NAV including the debenture at market value. The Company issued 2,750,000 new shares during the period to satisfy demand from the market.

Dividends

Many stocks held in the investment portfolio increased their dividend payments in the period and as noted in the 2013 Annual Report, the Company no longer bears F&C savings scheme costs. As a result of these favourable dynamics, and in order to reduce the disparity between the interim and final dividends, the Board has decided to raise the interim payment by 25% to 2.50p per share. This will be paid to shareholders on 31 January 2014.

Economic and market background

As usual over the course of six months, a number of economic and political factors have set the background for the performance of stock markets. Developments in the US are always important and this was certainly the case in this period. In the early Summer, the markets were shaken by the Chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank's suggestion that quantitative easing ("QE") could be tapered later in 2013 and wound down completely in 2014. The potential withdrawal of support for the US bond market led to a rapid move up in bond yields and global equity markets sold off. There was also significant pressure on the currencies of a number of the leading developing countries. Subsequently however, a weaker set of US economic data led to something of a U-turn from Ben Bernanke and tapering was delayed. Equity markets ended the period by rallying despite the distraction of the political wrangling over the US fiscal deficit in October.

Outside the US, newsflow was generally more positive. The UK economy accelerated with both the manufacturing and service sectors expanding at more normal rates commensurate with a proper economic recovery. Whilst things are not yet as rosy in Europe, even in the worst hit parts of the Continent economic activity appears to have stabilised and the euro gained against the US dollar.

for the half-year ended 31 October 2013

Equity markets in Asia and particularly in Latin America were buffeted by the QE situation mentioned above. Economic growth in China and elsewhere in Asia has slowed and persistent high inflation in some countries, such as India, squeezed corporate profit margins. Within Latin America the largest equity market, Brazil, was undermined by civil unrest and a weakening currency.

Portfolio performance

We started the new financial year on the back of two years of consistent outperformance in all five regional sub-portfolios. In the first six months we were again ahead of the local small cap indices in the UK and Japan. While our absolute returns in Europe and the US were strong, we were unable to keep up with the rising local indices over this period. Returns from the Rest of the World portfolio were disappointing, in common with the market backdrop.

While we underperformed in the US, there were nevertheless a number of good performers at the individual stock level. Retailer Conn's rose as a result of an improving product offering augmented by new store openings. ViaSat reported improving new subscriber growth for its enhanced broadband satellite service. Grand Canyon Education was lifted by strong student enrolment numbers and Alere gained as cost cuts and reduced debt levels pleased the markets. Oil stocks have generally struggled on a global basis but there are always exceptions and Rex Energy rose as the market warmed to its production growth prospects.

On the downside, the worst contributor was Allied Nevada Gold. A fall in the gold price combined with production problems and management change led us to lose confidence and the position was sold at a loss. Conferencing business Premiere Global was another underperformer as its organic revenue growth fell. Pernix Therapeutics was weak, suffering from downgrades as it sold its generic drugs business and its Chief Executive stepped down. America's Car-Mart lagged the rising market as greater availability of finance led to a switch towards new car purchases, and Allscripts Healthcare Solutions fell back as it lost an important customer.

The UK portfolio performed well. A number of our holdings with exposure to residential property rose significantly, with Workspace Group benefiting as it advanced several redevelopment schemes across its London estate. An improving consumer spending environment helped a number of companies including car dealer Vertu Motors and Restaurant Group. Enterprise Inns was strong as the market became more prepared to invest in highly leveraged stocks, and the company produced solid results. From the more recently acquired holdings Polar Capital was the star, lifted by surging fund inflows into its broadening range of equity funds. Another winner was recruitment company Robert Walters, which rose as employment trends improved.

In terms of weaker stocks in the UK, IT services and commodity related stocks were a feature. SDL, Anite and Idox all downgraded their expectations for sales and profits while generally disappointing exploration news undermined Salamander Energy and delays beset Cameroon based Bowleven. Synergy Healthcare was a laggard as new business proved slower to arrive.

Within the European portfolio generally, the areas that performed well were in either the value areas of the portfolio or the cyclical stocks. The major contributions came from financials with Aareal Bank performing particularly well. There was no stock specific news to drive this, rather an increased risk appetite that drove investors to invest in assets which had been excessively discounted. Azimut, the Italian asset manager, produced strong first half results during the Summer when they announced that they had reached their full year flow targets. The cyclical stocks that performed well were companies that sell products into either the truck or automobile market. Within this area Plastic Omnium stood out as investors took a more positive view on Europe's economic outlook, whilst also reassessing the intrinsic growth potential of the business. The other strong performer of note was Origin Enterprises, the leading agronomist in the UK, which produced strong first half results in the face of tough market conditions. They also announced that they were handing a substantial amount of cash to shareholders through a tender offer.

The two standout poor performers were Providence Resources and Andritz. Providence performed poorly due to delay of the farm-out process associated with their Barryroe oilfield. Andritz struggled following a profit warning earlier in the year, due to poor project execution. Other weak performers were C&C Group, Tomra, and Kuka which had suffered more from lagging the rally rather than any stock specific news.

We obtain exposure to Japan through collectives and we introduced a new holding in the Aberdeen Global-Japanese Smaller Companies Fund. This has a good long-term record and is managed in much the same way as the Aberdeen Global-Asian Smaller Companies Fund, which has performed well for us. This purchase was funded by the sale of the iShares Exchange Traded Fund.

Our Rest of World portfolio did not change materially over the period. Once again our holding in The Scottish Oriental Smaller Companies Trust helped our performance. This fund and the Utilico Emerging Markets fund benefited from their generally defensive country and sector positioning against the weak market background. The Advance Brazil Leblon Equities Fund by contrast was well down, although it performed satisfactorily compared to the very weak local market. We added to our holding in the Advance Frontier Markets Fund. Frontier markets have benefited from increased investor interest and this is expected to continue in the medium term.

Asset allocation

Early in the period we decided to increase our exposure to the UK market. In part, this was because we felt that a recovering UK economy could lift sterling but, more pertinently, we had also been able to identify some promising new investments in the UK market. We were overweight in Japan through the whole period on the basis that the pick-up in the local economy was likely to be supportive for both corporate earnings and hence share prices. In practice however, Japanese small caps lagged most of the other markets as some of the initial euphoria surrounding the Abe administration's agenda faded. We are sticking to our positive view on this market looking into the rest of the year.

With absolute valuations higher than elsewhere and relatively few new stock ideas coming through, we have been a little more cautious in relation to the US and the extent of our underweight stance increased during the first half. In contrast we remained overweight towards Europe, where valuations look more appealing, and the markets rewarded us by performing well. Fund managers are now more prepared to invest in Europe and flows into the markets have already experienced something of a re-rating.

With Asian and Latin American markets lagging it has been tempting to add to our Rest of World exposure. We have, however, been concerned by the path of local corporate earnings and the managers of a number of the funds in which we invest to gain exposure to these markets have themselves been cautious on near-term prospects.

Outlook

While there are still gains to be had at an individual stock level, the extent of the move up in global equity prices in 2013 argues for caution near-term. As a result at this stage the Company is ungeared, with cash balances exceeding the value of the debenture liability. We firmly believe that the Company's investment mandate continues to offer the potential for strong returns taking a longer term perspective.

Directors' Statement of Principal Risks and Uncertainties

The Company's assets consist mainly of listed equities and its principal risks are therefore market related. The large number of investments held, together with the geographic and sector diversity of the portfolio, enables the Company to spread its risk with regard to liquidity, market volatility, currency movements and revenue streams.

In addition to the risks arising from the ongoing global financial instability, key risks faced by the Company relate to investment strategy, management and resources, regulatory issues, operational matters, financial controls, counterparty failure and custody of assets. These risks, and the way in which they are managed, are described in more detail under the heading "Principal risks and their management" within the Directors' Report and Business Review in the Company's annual report for the year ended 30 April 2013. The Company's principal risks and uncertainties have not changed materially since the date of that report and are not expected to change materially for the remainder of the Company's financial year.

Statement of Directors' Responsibilities in Respect of the Half-Yearly Financial Report

In accordance with Chapter 4 of the Disclosure and Transparency Rules the Directors confirm that to the best of their knowledge:

- the condensed set of financial statements has been prepared in accordance with applicable UK Accounting Standards on a going concern basis and gives a true and fair view of the assets, liabilities, financial position and net return of the Company;
- the half-yearly report includes a fair review of the important events that have occurred during the first six months of the financial year and their impact on the financial statements;
- the Directors' Statement of Principal Risks and Uncertainties shown above is a fair review of the principal risks and uncertainties for the remainder of the financial year;

- the half-yearly report includes details on related party transactions; and
- in light of the controls and monitoring processes that are in place, the Company has adequate resources and arrangements to continue operating within its stated objective and policy for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, the accounts continue to be drawn up on the basis that the Company is a going concern.
